

Online Workshop on "Sustainability Crisis and International Institutions" (29 Nov 2024)
(by AIU students with senior high school students)

Tetsuya Toyoda (toyoda@aiu.ac.jp)

1. Purposes

- to create synergy between AIU students and high school students
- to let high school students learn from AIU students
- to let AIU students learn from high school students.

2. Eligibility for this event

Senior high school students.

Participants must have a quiet environment where they can join the Zoom meeting without sound interference.

3. Languages: Entirely in English

4. Number of Participants:

18 SHS students and 18 AIU students

5. Faculty in charge: Tetsuya Toyoda

6. Platform: Zoom. Students can join either from school or from home.

7. Date and time: Friday, Nov 29, 2024 at 16:15-18:00

8. Requirements

An environment where it is possible to join the Zoom meeting video-on and join the editing work of Google documents.

9. Activities

In six groups, high school students and AIU students work together to produce very short reports in writing on an assigned issue related to international institutions and sustainable development.

16:15-16:30 Introduction by Prof. Toyoda

16:30-17:00 Group discussion on assigned topics [submission of group reports by 17:00]

17:00-17:15 Break

17:15-17:30 Reports of group discussion in the plenary

17:30-17:45 Group work to make comments on the other groups' reports [submission by 17:45]

17:45-18:00 Concluding discussion in the plenary

10. Schedule

Oct 1. Registration opens via Google Form (and closes when the maximum number is reached):

<https://forms.gle/fUmDM462oy6koEvu9>.

Nov 22, 16:15-16:30: Practice session (15 minutes) and online distribution of pre-class short readings

Nov 29, 16:15-18:00: Online workshop (90 minutes + 15 minutes' break)